ASSOCIATION OF INTERVENTION
SPECIALISTS

The Leaders in Behavioral Health Interventions

Membership Application

Dear AIS Applicant:

Thank you for your interest in membership in the Association of Intervention Specialists (AIS). Following is the AIS Criteria for Membership, description of the Application Process, and Membership Application.

By completing the application process, you are agreeing to uphold the mission and vision of the Association of Intervention Specialist.

The Mission of AIS is to provide leadership in the profession of behavioral health intervention. The Vision of AIS is that Behavioral health intervention is recognized as an integral part of the recovery-oriented continuum of care.

Anyone applying for Full AIS membership must be registered with the Pennsylvania Certification Board as a CIP or the Canadian Certified Intervention Professional (CCIP) and provide a copy of the registration to the AIS Office prior to being voted on for Full membership.

To request an application packet to become a CIP certified interventionist visit:

www.pacertboard.org/certifications.

To request an application packet to become a CCIP certified interventionist visit:

1. A potential applicant can obtain an application packet from the AIS office or from the website www.associationofinterventionspecialists.org
2. The applicant indicates if he/she is applying for “Full” membership or “Candidate”, “Associate” or “Emeritus” membership. Full membership, requiring annual dues currently set at $250, allows full voting privileges and sometimes-reduced rate on various items. Candidate membership, requiring an annual dues payment currently set at $150, does not allow voting privileges, or membership claim other than Candidate status. Associate membership, requiring an annual dues payment currently set at $500, does not allow voting privileges, or membership claim other than Associate status. Emeritus membership, requiring annual dues currently set at $125, allows full voting privileges and sometimes-reduced rate on various items.

To apply, the applicant forwards the Membership Chair the following:

- Application form completed, signed and dated
- * A non-refundable application fee of $75
- * Signed and dated AIS Code of Ethics
- Signed and dated CIP Code of Ethics
- Personal Statement

Upon receipt of completed application materials, the AIS office staff (1) forwards the application fee to the AIS Treasury, (2) Assigns and forwards appropriate application materials to an advocate, and (3) sends a letter to the applicant acknowledging that the application materials have been received, that an AIS advocate will be contacting the applicant shortly to assist the applicant, and that the applicant may attend the next scheduled AIS meeting as a self-paying, non-voting member if desired. If the application materials are incomplete, the AIS office staff will notify the applicant. If an applicant does not complete the application process within one year of opening their application, they are required to reapply and pay an additional application fee.

3. The Membership Committee reviews the application for completeness. Upon completion of the review the application is brought to the AIS Board of Directors at the next scheduled AIS meeting to be voted upon for approval or rejection. Upon approval the Membership Committee Chairperson notifies the applicant that upon receipt of the membership fee, the applicant will be an AIS member with all the duties and privileges appropriate to that category of membership. The Membership Committee also notifies the AIS President who then sends a welcoming letter to the new member.
4. If the Board of Directors does not approve the application, a member of the Membership Committee notifies the applicant as to the reason.

AIS Code of Ethics

All members adhere to the AIS Code of Ethics as reproduced below:

PRINCIPLE 1: Non discrimination

The intervention specialist must not discriminate against clients, organizations, or other professionals based on race, religion, color, age, sex, sexual orientation, mental or physical handicap, national origin or economic condition.

PRINCIPLE 2: Competence

The intervention specialist must recognize that this profession is founded on standards of competence, which promotes the best interest of the client, the intervention specialist, this profession, and society. The intervention specialist must accept the need for ongoing education as an integral part of professional competence. The intervention specialist must recognize the boundaries and limitations of one's own competencies, and not offer services or use techniques outside of these professional competencies. The intervention specialist must recognize the effect of physical and mental impairment on professional performance, and be willing to seek appropriate treatment for oneself or for a colleague.

PRINCIPLE 3: Legal and Ethical Standards

The intervention specialist must uphold the legal and accepted ethical codes, which pertain to professional conduct. The intervention specialist must not use the affiliation with the Association of Intervention Specialists for purposes that are not consistent with the stated mission of the Association.*
* The intervention specialist who is aware of unethical or illegal professional conduct must report such violations to the appropriate certifying authority.

PRINCIPLE 4: Client Welfare

The intervention specialist must respect the integrity and protect the welfare of the person or group with whom the specialist is working. The intervention specialist must assume the responsibility for clients' welfare either by termination by mutual agreement and/or by the client becoming engaged with another professional.

PRINCIPLE 5: Confidentiality

The intervention specialist must embrace, as a primary obligation, the privacy of clients and must not disclose confidential information acquired in teaching, clinical practice, training or consultation sessions, except when there is a clear and imminent danger to client or other persons.

PRINCIPLE 6: Societal Obligations

The intervention specialist must adopt a personal and professional stance, which promotes the well being of all human beings. The intervention specialist must inform the public through active civic and professional participation in community affairs of the effect of addiction, and must act to guarantee all persons, especially the needy and disadvantaged, have access to necessary resources and services.

PRINCIPLE 7: Remuneration

The intervention specialist must establish arrangements in professional practice, which are in accord with the professional standards that safeguard the best interest of the client, the specialist and the profession. The intervention specialist may not exploit relationships with clients or patients for personal advantage or satisfaction. The intervention specialist will not accept direct enumeration for making or receiving a referral of a patient.
